Art Unit: 2625

1. Claims 1-19 are allowed. Claims 14-19 are newly added. Claims 1, 8 and 14 are independent.

2. The amendment filed December 21, 2007 has overcome the objection of claims 4, 8 and 13 and thus the objection of dependent claims 9-13.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 1 is allowable over the prior art of record because the prior art does not teach a scanning device as claimed, the scanning device having a differential analog transmission pair and comprising a differential output driver coupled to the image capture component, the differential output driver and the image capture component included on an image capture component board, a differential input receiver included on a main board, which is coupled to the image capture component board.

Claims 2-7 depend on claim 1.

Claim 8 recites a method for using a differential pair in a scanner, the method comprising the steps of receiving an optic signal representing scanned data and transforming the optic signal into analog electric signals, transforming the analog electric signals into differential analog electric signals, and receiving the differential analog electrical signals and restoring the differential analog electric signals back into analog electric signals. The combination of the steps is not taught by the prior art of record.

Claims 9-13 depend on claim 8, directly or indirectly.

New claim 14 is written in a means-plus-function format. Apparatus claim 14 recites "means for receiving an optic signal representing scanned data, and transforming the optic signal into analog electric signals", "means for transforming the analog electric signals into differential analog electric signals", and "means for receiving the differential analog electric signals, and restoring the differential analog electric signals back into analog electric signals". The combination of the claimed means is not taught by the prior art of record.

Claims 15-19 depend on claim 14, directly or indirectly.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
